

Basic Drawing

Retired School District 118 teacher Francine Sinsabaugh taught an eight-session basic drawing class on Tuesday evenings in September and October 2009 at the Art League studio.

The classes focused on a variety of drawing projects, including portraits on the Oct. 20th class.

Sitting in the center of the class, Francine instructed and demonstrated how to draw facial features and use shading to bring out their form. She worked individually with the students. Periodically, she asked the students to hold up their portraits before the class so she could provide on-going critiques as they progressed.

Photos, text & layout
by Margie Yee

