

Marsha Russell taught a children's art class that met for four consecutive Saturdays in August 2009 at the studio. Students drew a picture and created several objects out of clay, wire and paint. Here, some of the students showed off their class projects.

ART CLASS

